4.1 Paul LaPorte, Master Gardener, Ephemeral Ark Nursery

Re: Invasive Species Management

Paul LaPorte provided a presentation regarding Invasive Species Management. Highlights of the presentation included:

- a summary of Whitby's historical ecological diversity;
- phragmites as the most prominent invasive species and their impacts on the environment and infrastructure;
- the importance of an Invasive Plant Management Strategy;
- budgeting for invasive species management with a five year outlook;
- partnering with municipalities, indigenous groups, and gardening groups;
- supporting invasive species awareness;
- a desire for the Town to address public concerns regarding invasive species and maintaining a record of invasive species in the municipality;
- integrated pest management strategies to address invasive species such as prevention and monitoring;
- ensuring correct identification of invasive species;
- entering invasive species on the Early Detection and Distribution Mapping System (EDDMapS);
- adopting a clean equipment protocol to limit cross-contamination of environments from equipment;
- responding to early detection of priority species; and,
- chemical treatment of invasive species as a last resort.

A question and answer period ensued regarding:

- the prevalence of invasive species in Whitby;
- the cost to determine the degree of invasive species in an area;
- the classification of dog strangling vine as a priority species;
- whether wild grapevine was considered an invasive species;
- whether other lakeshore municipalities budget for invasive species management;
- suggestions for addressing allelopathic plants, being plants that alter the soil to prevent other plants from growing in a specific location;
- the Town department responsible for managing invasive species;
- the existence of an invasive species mapping application for mobile devices;
- next steps to develop an invasive plant management strategy;
- strategies to engage residents in community invasive species management initiatives; and,
- the availability of resources and pamphlets to distribute for public engagement.

It was the consensus of the Committee to hear Item 8, Council Update, at this time.
